

You are invited to the First Annual Gail Champlin Speakers Program

Presented by the Center for Professional Development, University of Hartford

Can Women Save the Economy?

What effect are these difficult financial times having on women?

How are women coping?

What can women do to strengthen their position in the economy?

Alfa Demmellash, CNN Hero and CEO of Rising Tide Capital, and Susan Coleman, Ph.D., the Ansley Professor of Finance at the University of Hartford, will speak about the roles women are playing in the economy and what they can do to help turn the economy around.

Tuesday, November 3, 2009 5:00-7:15 p.m.

Auerbach Science Center Auditorium
Asylum Avenue Campus of the University of Hartford
30 Elizabeth Street
Hartford, CT 06105

Pre-Registration is required, call 860-768-5619

The event is free but donations of $10-$20 to support the Gail Champlin Speakers Program

will be welcome at the door.

Support for this program is provided in part by the Women's Education and Leadership Fund,
a legacy of Hartford College for Women at the University of Hartford.