Time is Running Out! Limited Spaces Available for YWCA's Money Conference for Women.
Register by October 17th to secure your spot.

HARTFORD, CT—YWCA Hartford Region and Honorary Chair Denise L. Nappier, Connecticut State Treasurer, will host the 14th Annual Money Conference for Women, a conference to help women take charge of their financial futures. Registration is open for this FREE Money Conference for Women. Register by October 17th at www.ctmoneyconferenceforwomen.com.

The event will take place on Saturday, October 24th, 2015 from 7:30 AM – 2:30 PM at the Connecticut Convention Center in Hartford, Connecticut. Business journalist and author, Valerie Coleman Morris will speak on the theme, Financial Economic Success for Every Stage in Life.

Following the morning's keynote presentation participants will have the opportunity to attend two financial focus workshops of their choosing. People are encouraged to register early to secure their first choice workshop. Conference attendees can also visit the Financial Expo to learn more from a variety of financial service providers.

The Money Conference for Women is designed to address the unique financial challenges women of all ages face in their work and personal lives. Free online registration is available at www.ctmoneyconferenceforwomen.com. All attendees will receive a conference tote bag, and a continental breakfast and lunch will be provided. To request a registration form, or to get more information about the event, call (860) 525-1163, ext. 129.

The Money Conference for Women is sponsored in part by Prudential Retirement.
